

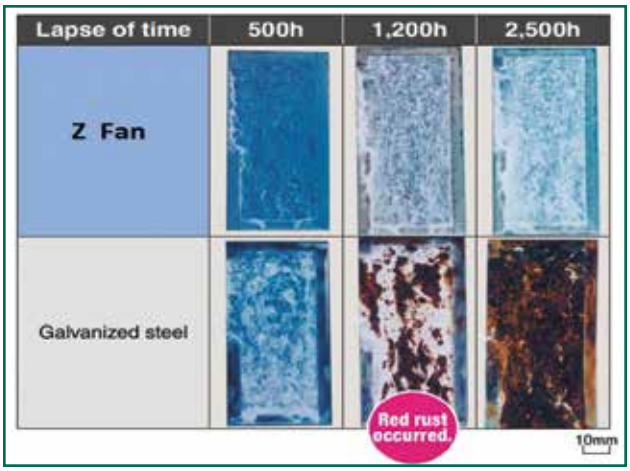
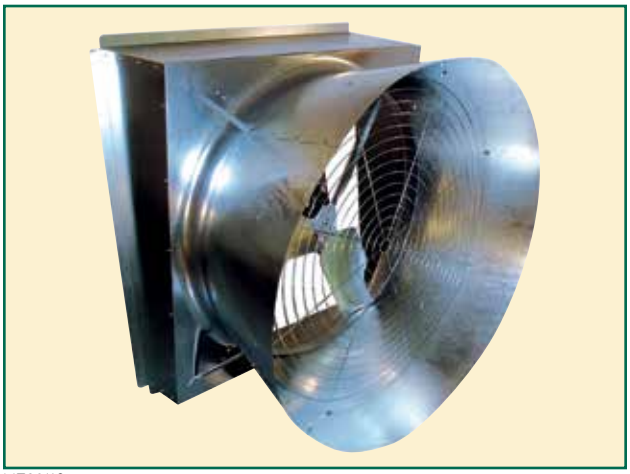
Peace of Mind Ventilation

The next big thing in rust-resistant ventilation, the Z-Fan is coated with a unique alloy compound that is more durable than galvanized steel and more cost effective than fiberglass.





- Superior protection against ammonia and moisture that cause corrosion on the parts that need it most: housing panels, cone sections, and dampers.
- The “self-healing” coating forms a protective layer over cut edges and scratches over time to increase fan life.
- 7-year warranty when used in poultry operations.
- Damper and slant wall models available.
