In an effort to provide our customers with the best quality drinkers and regulator housings, VAL-CO looked to the new Xeno® engineering thermoplastic resin. Xeno® resin is a durable polyester-based material that offers an excellent balance of mechanical strength and chemical resistance. VAL-CO's in-house testing has determined that these new drinker and housing designs, in conjunction with the Xeno® resin, have strength, durability and reliability.

The Line of Drinkers from VAL-CO®
